

Welcome to the IBS National College Radio Conference 2009!

On behalf of the Intercollegiate Broadcasting System, Inc., welcome to New York City, and to the 2009 IBS National College Radio Conference.

With the help and support of our member stations, IBS has been at the forefront of issues and concerns that affect our stations, the staffs that program and operate them, and the listeners who are served by them.

IBS stations and staff members are a special constituency within the larger non-commercial FM/AM, web, cable and carrier-current arena. Our 1,000+ member stations are engaged in both the operational and educational aspects of radio broadcasting.

Whenever one of our stations wins an award for programming or receives a commendation for public service, we are all the better for it. When a staff member of an IBS station graduates and enters the world of professional media, he/she brings a part of the campus radio experience with him/her. That individual's success reflects well upon the thousands of potential media professionals who are learning their skills and perfecting their craft back on the campus. The speakers at this year's conference provide ample evidence that more and more broadcast industry professionals get their start at school and college radio stations.

The IBS National College Radio Conference is more than just the sessions, workshops and tours that are listed in the program schedule. It is about people: the students who are the current generation of campus broadcasters and the professionals who care so much about one of our nation's most vital resources...the medium of radio. It is our hope that by the time you head for home on Sunday, you will have had the opportunity to participate in engaging, exciting and entertaining conversation in both formal and informal settings.

Again, a warm welcome to the station delegates, panelists, and friends of high school and college radio.

Enjoy the conference!

Norm Prusslin, IBS President & Conference Co-Chair

Fritz Kass, IBS Chief Operating Officer & Conference Co-Chair

Michael Nevradakis, IBS Conference Planning Coordinator

The IBS Board and Staff

WUSB 90.1 FM, Stony Brook University, Long Island, New York, IBS Conference Host Station

WFTU 1570 AM, Five Towns College, Long Island, New York, IBS Conference Host Station

IBS 2009 / Special Thanks to:

Diana Baruni	Len Mailloux
Blender Magazine	Anita Michaels
Isobel Breheny-Schafer	Tom Moon
Oteil Burbridge	Jill Morrison
Barbara Calabrese	John Murphy
George Capalbo	Allen Myers
Rich Cerny	David North
CMJ	Shawn Novatt
Conclave	Pacifica Radio
Holland Cooke	The Paley Center for Media
Democracy Now! Staff	Ellis Paul
Anthony "Dob" Dobrini	Chuck Platt
Rick Eberle	Press Club of Long Island/Society of Professional Journalists
David J. Fabilli	The Prometheus Radio Project
Keri Fico	Marc Prusslin
FMQB Magazine	Radio & Records Magazine
Free Press	The Radio Research Consortium (RRC)
Alec Foege	Tom Ray
Valerie Geller	The Rock & Roll Hall of Fame Annex
Tom Gibson	Jeff Smith
"Disco" Vince Giffin	Bill Sobel
Jillia Glowatz	The Source Magazine
Michael Harrison/Talkers Magazine	Bob Stern
Dustin Herlich	Bob Taylor
The Highline Ballroom	Time Out New York
Lynn Hoffman	The Village Voice
Brett Holcomb	Cedric Watson and WLIU-BK
Garland Jeffreys	Jim Wiener
Paul Kamp	Tim Woods
Fritz Kass	The Woodstock Museum
The L Magazine	Patrice Zapiti
Anne Leighton	Tom Zarecki
The Long Island Music Hall of Fame	Alexandra Zimmermann

To host station WUSB 90.1 FM, Stony Brook University; Long Island, NY

To host station WFTU 1570 AM, Five Towns College; Long Island, NY

To students from the Media Minor/Living Learning Center for Media, Stony Brook University

To students from the Mass Communications Program, Five Towns College

To the Hotel Pennsylvania, New York, NY

To all of the IBS 2009 Conference speakers, panelists, moderators, and facilitators...Thank You!

In memory of George Abraham, Dave Borst, Thom O'Hair and Jeff Tellis

Norm Prusslin, IBS President and Conference Co-Chair

Michael Nevradakis, IBS Conference Planning Coordinator